SEEK EDUCATION IN STORM'S TEETH

Good Crowd Gathers For Adult Education at High School in Spite of Blizzard.

Despite the severe storm of Monday night, many enthusiastic students attended the Evening Classes in Adult Education sponsored by the Arlington Woman's Club, held at the Senior High School.

Mrs. Spofford reviewed four outstanding books: "Journals of Bronson Alcott," edited by Ordell Shepard, "Life of Edward Arlington Robinson," by H. Hagedorn, "Puritans in Babylon," by William Allen White, and "Listen, the Wind," by Ann Morrow Lindberg.

Prof. Lewis Jerome Johnson spoke on proportional representation.

Tonight (Thursday), in addition to two classes in stenography, contract bridge, Italian cutwork, Law Lectures and Vocational Information for Parents, Knitting, Art and Metal Craft, there will be an art lecture, "Landscaping Your Home" by Miss Esther Wyman.

Registration has now reached nearly 500.

Lowe Still Very Ill But Condition Better

Selectman George H. Lowe, Jr., candidate for town treasurer, is still very ill at his home with a severe intestinal infection. Toward the end of last week it seemed that he might make a rapid recovery, but Sunday he had a violent setback, which has made every day this week a struggle from dawn to dawn. Yesterday afternoon when the Advocate inquired, it was reported that while he is still very uncomfortable and unable to see anyone, the patient seems once more on the road to improvement.

EIGHT HUNDRED AT BOYS' CLUB SHOW

With a regulation ring set in the middle of the floor and a crowd of eight hundred seated about it, the high school auditorium took on the aspect of a real fight arena last Friday night when the Arlington Boys' Club staged its first annual sports night for the delight of the patrons.

With Tommy Rawson as referee and Director Deane Moores of the club running the show with the assistance of Harry Smart, Robert Moore and Dr. Campobasso, not to mention the president of the club, Chief Archie F. Bullock of the police.

HARRIS ACCUSES CHAIRMAN CUTLER OF DICTATORSHIP

Candidate for Selectman Launches Attack on Citizens' Committee Head.

In a statement to the Advocate, George A. Harris, candidate for the office of selectman, accuses the chairman of the Citizens Committee, Felix Cutler, of attempting to be a political dictator, and of making promises to back a certain candidate before any others had announced their intentions.

Mr. Harris states, "I am a Citizens Committee member, and a member of its board of directors, and have worked hard for the committee on many of its sub-committees, as either chairman or member, because I believed in the principles and aims of a non-partisan organization in Arlington. But the Committee's actions this year, have conclusively disclosed the fact that it is not non-partisan, but definitely

SELECTMEN SET LOCAL SPEED LIMIT AT 30 MILES PER HOUR

Order Will be Strictly Enforced Beginning Sunday. Drastic Action Necessary to Stem Tide of Fatal Accidents. Arlington Man Killed on Broadway Sunday Night.

Local Storm Cost Exceeds $6,200

Up to midnight last night the nor'easter which raged over this section for twenty-four hours beginning Monday morning, had cost the town about $6,200, and has employed on the average of 250 men on snow removal, not counting the drivers of the thirty or more trucks kept plowing the streets and taking snow from the loaders. The number of boys and men put to work by home-owners to shovel walks would be impossible to estimate.

Although the fall here was relatively small in actual number of inches, the snow proved very difficult to handle because it was hard-driven and solidly packed. With the wind blowing at near gale velocity, most of the streets had to be plowed more than once in order to keep them open.

STARRY CAST TO DO WILCOX PLAY

"Mother's a Queen" to be Produced Here for First Time on Any Stage.

With Virginia Hunt Winner and Richard Guinan in the leading roles, "Mother's a Queen," the long heralded comedy by Gladys Black Wilcox, will be presented by the Friends of the Drama at the clubhouse February 15, 16, 17 and 18 under the direction of Myldred Foley Trempp.

Although "Mother's a Queen" is apparently Broadway-bound, Mrs. Wilcox was able to make special arrangement with her New York

To stem the tide of fatal automobile accidents which has swept over this town during the past sixty days the selectmen have decreed that thirty miles an hour shall be the speed limit on all streets of this town, and the ruling is to go into effect Sunday. Chief Bullock plans to give the order rigid enforcement and has posted all the principal entrances to the town with conspicuous warning signs.

The fatal accident which decided the selectmen on drastic steps occurred Sunday evening when Thomas Arcuri, 49, of 145 Thorn-dike street was struck by a fast-moving automobile as he was crossing Broadway at #92 and was thrown twenty-five feet by the impact. The injured man was taken to Symmes Arlington Hospital in the police ambulance, and he died there slightly less than twenty-four hours later of a fractured skull and other injuries.

The driver, Francis Ludwig of 5 Willow place, was arrested on the technical charge of manslaughter and driving so as to endanger. He was operating a car owned by Janet L. Wayne of 36 Moulton road, and was moving toward Somerville. Arcuri was crossing from the left side of the street and was struck after he had passed the center of the four-lane road.

Thomas Arcuri, who was the husband of Angela (Acustina) Arcuri, had been a laborer for the town of Arlington for the past twelve years. He was born in Italy forty-nine years ago, son of Giuseppe Arcuri.

Stricken Blind By Intense Cold

At about one o'clock yesterday morning with the thermometer hovering just over the zero mark, Frederick Palmer, 20, who had been trying to thumb his way back to the C.C.C. camp at Pittsburg, New Hampshire, stumbled into a garage at the lower end of the town in company with a younger boy and said that he had been stricken blind.

The police were notified and took the lad to Symmes Arlington Hospital, where it was finally decided that his eyeballs had been frost-bitten. He was held for observation but was expected to have recovered sufficiently today to be able to return to the C.C.C. camp.

Palmer had been visiting his girl friend in Taunton. He complained of his eyes, and she delegated her young brother, Frank Goularte, to accompany him on his thumbing expedition back to camp. While waiting for a ride in Arlington, Palmer lost his sight completely. While he was resting at Symmes Hospital, young Goularte spent the night at Salvation Army headquarters in Boston.

LOCAL SELECTMEN PROCLAIM "ELKS AMERICANISM WEEK"

Arlington Lodge of Elks, in accordance with the request of Grand Exalted Ruler Dr. Edward J. McCormack, will observe "Elks Americanism Week" from March 1st to 8th.

Believing that "Americanism" is the only "ism" that should be observed in this country and in order to offset the teaching of other "isms," Arlington Lodge will make strenuous efforts during that week to bring home to people of Arlington the necessity for greater devotion to the principles upon which this Government has been founded.

The Arlington Board of Selectmen at its meeting Monday night, voted to co-operate with Arlington Lodge of Elks by designating the week of March 1-8 as "Elks Americanism Week" and urges the community generally to join with Arlington Lodge in spreading the sound principles of "Americanism"

MISS MARION HILL

Funeral services were held Friday at the Beal's Funeral Home, Medford, for Miss Marion Hill of 151 Walnut street, Somerville, who passed away at the Baker Memorial Hospital after a week's illness. Rev. Whitney Hale, rector of the Church of the Advent, Boston, officiated. Burial was at Cedar Grove cemetery, Milton.

Although she lived in Somerville, Miss Hill enjoyed much of the social life of this town, and was very well known here. She was the sister of the late Theodore V. Hill of Arlington, who was killed two years ago in an automobile accident.

Miss Hill was born in Cambridge, daughter of James Lester Hill and the late Mary E. Hill of Arlington. She was educated in the Cambridge Schools and graduated from the Franklin Academy in Boston. She was confirmed and baptized in St. Peter's Episcopal church of Cambridge, and at one time sang in the choir of St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston, and Church of the Good Shepherd. During the World War she served as First Class Yeoman; for the past 20 years has been secretary for the Economy Lubricating Company of Charlestown. Miss Hill was a member of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts at 46 Beacon street, Boston, also the Business and Professional Women's Club of 6 Beacon street.

Surviving her is her father, James Hill of Machias, Maine, brother, Fred Hill of Winchester, and sister, Mrs. Fred Scott Leach of Springfield, also two nephews, Ralph Hill of Arlington, and Frederick Hill, Jr., of Winchester.

Living a most active life and having a large circle of friends who cherish her memory for her many fine traits of character; loving, charitable and always going out of her way to do for others—she is mourned by all who knew her; there was so much in her life to emulate and commend.

Just beyond Life's Curtain,
If we could understand,
We'd find our loved ones waiting
In that far better land.
And God in His Great Goodness,
Will lift the veil some day—
And let us join the dear ones
Who now—are just away.

SAHAG ARAKELYAN

Full and impressive military services were accorded the late Sahag Arakelyan, aged 69 years, by the Corporal William Power Kenibbs Camp 66, United Spanish War Veterans, last Sunday afternoon. He was a resident of West Townsend where he passed away January 27, and was Senior Vice Commander of the Kenibbs Camp, of Arlington, of which he was a charter member. He served in Company "F," 1st Engineers, U. S. V., during the War with Spain.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. John Nicol Mark of the First Parish (Unitarian) church, in the Saville and Kimball chapel. Services at the grave were conducted by the Kenibbs Camp. W. Kennedy Mason, commander; Charles H. Brown, senior vice commander; James W. Lowe, junior vice commander, and James W. Denney, officer of the day, Color bearers were: J. J. Donahoe, past commander Camp 66, and Felix Geoffria, past commander Camp 5, Waltham. Pall bearers were: John H. Miller, department commander; George B. Williams, past department commander; James W. Lowe, past commander; Fred J. Clifford, past commander; Charles H. Brown, senior vice commander, and J. McElroy, past commander Camp 41, Somerville. Taps were sounded by James Deacon, past commander Camp 44, Malden.

The firing squad was from Fort Banks. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery. There were thirty-eight comrades from Camp 66 and Vicinity Council No. 1, and twelve members of the Auxiliary present. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Minnie J. (Hurd) Arakelyan.

Urges Arlingtonians to Make Community Spirit

While good neighbors in Arlington have proved themselves to be better neighbors than ever before to the less privileged of Greater Boston, David A. Wilcox, community chairman for Arlington, today encouraged his fellow townsmen on to a final spurt for Greater Boston's 1939 Community Fund campaign, now in its second week.

He stressed again the importance of Arlington assuming its own debt in the generous service given to people of this community by Community Fund hospitals and other health units. The fact that these Community Fund agencies last year paid $23,612 for 4,875 days ward care and 9,900 out-patient treatments of Arlington people, over and above what they were able to play, speaks for itself, he said.

He also reminded his townspeople that but a few days remain before the close of the campaign, February 7, and he urged the local volunteer workers to bend every effort to oversubscription of Arlington's quota in the $4,645,000 minimum goal.

A message from Samuel Hoar of Concord, chairman of the Metropolitan Division, commended Mr. Wilcox and his co-workers for their good work to date.

"We are right in the ring fighting at close quarters to do our job and do it right," said Mr. Hoar, sending out a last-minute appeal on behalf of the 300,000 souls of Greater Boston who must be helped to better living during 1939.

"There can be no let-up in the hard quick punch Arlington has shown in the opening round. We must stick to the pace to go over the top," he said, spurring the 5000 volunteers in the Metropolitan Division on to 100 per cent performance.

SELECTMEN SET ASIDE "ELKS AMERICANISM WEEK"

In order to combat the insidious foreign propaganda that is being spread throughout the country, Arlington Lodge hopes that various civic and fraternal organizations will join with it in observance of "Americanism Week" and will be pleased to supply speakers on the subject of "Americanism" at any meeting conducted by these associations.

Speakers for these occasions can be obtained by contacting Henry G. Wilton, exalted ruler.

The Board of Selectmen, at the request of Arlington Lodge of Elks, has designated the week of March 1-8 as "Elks Americanism Week," according to a proclamation from the Selectmen received by Attorney Martin R. Durkin, chairman of the Elks committee in charge.

The proclamation follows:

Proclamation

"WHEREAS: The Arlington Lodge of Elks, in accordance with the request of the Grand Exalted Ruler, Dr. Edward J. McCormack, will observe 'Elks Americanism Week' from March 1 to 8, 1939, and

"WHEREAS: They believe that Americanism is the only 'ism' that should be observed in this country, and

"WHEREAS: The Arlington Lodge will make strenuous efforts during that week to offset the teaching of other 'isms' and to bring home to the people of Arlington the necessity for greater devotion to the principles upon which this Government is founded, and

"WHEREAS: Arlington Lodge hopes that the various civic and fraternal organizations will join with it in observing 'Americanism Week,' and will be pleased to supply speakers on the subject of 'Americanism' at any meeting conducted by these associations.

"THEREFORE: The Arlington Board of Selectmen at its meeting held Monday, January 23, 1939, voted: To cooperate with Arlington Lodge of Elks by proclaiming the week of March 1 to 8, 1939, as 'Elks Americanism Week.'

"To urge the community in general to join with the Arlington Lodge in spreading forth the sound principles of 'Americanism' in order to combat the insidious foreign propaganda that is being spread throughout the country.

"And to ask that the residents and citizens of the Town support this movement as both a civic and a patriotic duty."

Arlington Man Stars In Conservatory Play

Russell Perham of Norfolk road, who is majoring in dramatics at the New England Conservatory, took the part of "Danny" in the play, "Night Must Fall," which was given two nights last week in Recital Hall, Boston. This was the part in which Robert Montgomery starred. Mr. Perham, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Perham, won a scholarship in dramatics last year at the Conservatory. He is to appear in the leading male role in the March production of the Newton Village Players, in which organization he has been given a membership because of his outstanding dramatic work. This is Perham's senior year at the Conservatory.

Candidates Will Speak To Armenian Citizens

A pre-election rally will be held at the Yc Lantern on Sunday afternoon, February 26 by the Arlington Armenian Citizens' Club. Candidates for office are invited to be the speakers. The purpose of this Rally is to help the citizens of the town to become better acquainted with those who wish to hold office in this town. All are invited.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Arlington Armenian Citizens' Club, plans were made for a public meeting to be held at the Hardy School on Wednesday evening, March 15. A one-act play entitled "Shupodatz Dzar" will be presented, as well as an amateur show consisting of piano and violin selections, tap dancing, singing, and so forth.

cert. Next Sunday several of the buglers will practice with the 110th Cavalry Band at Commonwealth Armory in preparation for the concert. Among the girls will be Barbara Birch, Nancy Duncan, Norma Rowsell, Caroline Armitage and Helen Devlin.

Virginia Wunderly, who is to play the drum solo in the famous Swedish "Tapto" has been to two rehearsals with the band at the Commonwealth Armory and thinks look decidedly interesting for an afternoon of entertainment on Sunday, February 12.

It is indeed quite appropriate that the 110th Cavalry Band should give a concert on Lincoln's birthday, since the 110th Cavalry saw a great deal of action during the Civil War.

Miriam Hendrick Cahalin, reader, and Robert Rutledge, baritone, will also be on the program to round out the afternoon's entertainment, each having very generously consented to donate their services to the worthy cause.

The tickets which have sold very rapidly may still be obtained by calling either of the following persons: Mrs. Harold Yeames, Arlington 1003-M, or Mrs. A. W. Wunderly, Arlington 2963, or at Girl Scout headquarters, Old Town Hall.

EXPERIENCED COLLECTOR VITAL TO SAVE WASTE

as assistant to Mr. Edward A. Bailey, our present Collector, who will retire shortly.

Our largest receipts are from Real Estate and Personal Taxes. This amount being in the vicinity of two million dollars. Other items such as Street, Sewer and Sidewalk Betterments, Motor Vehicle Excise, Poll taxes, Water rates and Departmental receipts, bring the total to approximately two and one-half million dollars.

The Collector is personally responsible for the collection of these taxes. All these accounts must be kept accurately and systematically to insure efficiency. These accounts are subject at any time, to inspection by the State Division of Accounts and it is imperative that they be correct.

The Collector must make out tax bills and, if the latter are delinquent, collect interest as specified by State law. He must also issue demands and various notices and is firmly obligated to take all necessary legal steps to collect all taxes, interest and costs.

When Real Estate taxes are not paid after a demand has been issued, the Collector must proceed to make a Tax Taking. These liens on the property are termed Tax Titles and the Collector must make out a deed for each lot and have it recorded at the Registry of Deeds and turn this account over to the Town Treasurer. Tax Takings constitute one of the most important duties of the office, and the Collector must be well versed in the legal procedure of Tax Takings.

Henry F. Long, Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation, has declared that: "More money is lost by inexperienced Tax Collectors than by any other form of waste."

Yours truly,

J. WILBERT ANDERSON.

Hallisey Pupils To Compete for Vikings

Saturday evening, February 4, pupils of the Laura A. Hallisey Dance studios will perform at the Ritz Plaza Halls, 218 Huntington avenue, Boston, for the Viking Central Committee, of Arlington, in an "Amateur Night" contest. Miss Hallisey's talented students to compete will be Lynette Ann O'Brien and Donald O'Hare, who will give a swing version of "Here Comes the Bride" as a couple of newlyweds who are very dance-conscious. Four-year-old Raymond Doyle will do an Irish breakdown. Barbara Gauthier, three years old, will do a dance on tip toes. Mary Lee, a la Ethel Merman, will render "What Goes on in My Heart?" with a variation of truckin', shag and jive. Dorothy Clapp will do a jump rope tap with a special arrangement of "Step Aside." Miss Hallisey will accompany her pupils at the piano.

Mrs. James B. Donaldson of 95 Bartlett avenue is giving a tea in honor of Mrs. Arthur Watkins of Arlington and Mrs. James P. Ward of Charleston, Mississippi, on Friday. Mrs. Ward was formerly Miss Anita Andres of this town. The pourers will be Mrs. Paul Vonckx and Mrs. Fred Bird, the latter formerly of Arlington and now of Rockland, Maine.

Mrs. Mortimer H. Wells held a contract tea at her home, 4 Brantwood road, recently, when twelve friends enjoyed the afternoon. Mrs. Joseph P. McCann captured the top score and first prize.

Leslie Atwood Foster of 23 Jason street and Priscilla Kendrick of 45 Hunnewell avenue, Newton, have filed marriage intentions with Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder.

Miss Amy Winn, 50 Academy street, is a member of the committee arranging for the Tufts Alumnae Bridge to be held at the Women's Republican Club, Boston, on Saturday afternoon, February 4th. This event is for the benefit of the Tufts alumnae hall fund of which Miss Winn is the chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Northrup entertained a small party before the Friends of the Drama bridge last Friday evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Russell T. Hamlet, Dr. and Mrs. George W. Bowlby and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Harding, formerly of Arlington and now of Lexington.

Mrs. Charles H. Hoxie had as her guest the first part of the week her sister, Miss Bertha Foote of Mystic, Connecticut. On Tuesday, Mrs. Hoxie gave a luncheon at her home on Lincoln street, Belmont, when the guests, including several Arlingtonians, were members of a small group who meet to discuss current literature and topics of the day.

David Bloom of 10 Thorndike street has been awarded a Hayden Scholarship for musical study by the New England Conservatory of Music. According to Director Wallace Goodrich, the amounts of the Hayden Scholarships range upward from $100, according to the candidate's need.

In accordance with the provisions of the Zoning By-Law, a public hearing will be held in the hearing room of the Town Hall at 7:30 p. m. on Friday, February 10, 1939, to consider the following proposals:

1. Increasing lot restrictions in the single and general residence districts as outlined in the following:

Section 11. Single Residence Districts.
A. Add to the first line of this paragraph after the word "districts" the following: "No lot shall have a frontage of less than sixty feet or an area of less than six thousand square feet and change the word 'forty' in the fifth line to read 'thirty' so that this paragraph will read: 'In the single residence districts, no lot shall have a frontage of less than sixty feet or an area of less than six thousand square feet and no building or buildings on any one lot, including garages, shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family.'

B. Add to the first line of this paragraph after the word "building" the following: "No lot shall have a frontage of less than sixty feet or an area of less than six thousand square feet and change the word 'forty' in the fifth line to read 'thirty' so that this paragraph will read: 'No part of any building measured at the outside face of nearest foundation or pier to lot line, except uncovered steps, shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family.'

C. Add to the beginning of this paragraph "A lot duly recorded and existing when this by-law takes effect and having a frontage of less than sixty feet or an area less than six thousand square feet shall not be included in the provisions of paragraph B but in the event of the erection of a building as described in Paragraphs A and B on such a lot the following set backs shall apply: Not less than ten feet from any street line or less than seven and one half feet from the line of any adjoining lot or less than fifteen feet from any other buildings on the same lot."

Section 12. General Residence Districts.
A. Add to the first line of this paragraph after the word "districts" the following: "No lot shall have a frontage of less than sixty feet or an area of less than six thousand square feet and change the word 'forty' in the fifth line to read 'thirty' so that this paragraph will read: 'In the general residence districts, no lot shall have a frontage of less than sixty feet or an area of less than six thousand square feet and no building or buildings shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than forty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence.'

B. Add to the first line of this paragraph after the word "building" the following: "No lot shall have a frontage of less than sixty feet or an area of less than six thousand square feet and change the word 'forty' in the fifth line to read 'thirty' so that this paragraph will read: 'No part of any building measured at the outside face of nearest foundation or pier to lot line, except uncovered steps, shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than forty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence.'

C. Add to the beginning of this paragraph "A lot duly recorded and existing when this by-law takes effect and having a frontage of less than sixty feet or an area less than six thousand square feet shall not be included in the provisions of paragraph B but in the event of the erection of a building as described in Paragraphs A and B on such a lot the following set backs shall apply: Not less than ten feet from any street line or less than seven and one half feet from the line of any adjoining lot or less than fifteen feet from any other buildings on the same lot."

Section 21. Establishment of Districts.
In the third line of this paragraph change the words "the following" to "the following districts" and add to the latter part of this paragraph the words "Residence D districts" so that this portion of the paragraph will then read as follows: "For the purposes of this by-law, the Town of Arlington is hereby divided into the following districts: Single Residence districts, General residence districts, Semi-residence districts, Business districts, Industrial districts, Unrestricted districts."

Section 23. Incorporate in the Zoning By-Law an additional section to be known as Section 3A. Residence D Districts.
In the residence D districts, no new building or part thereof shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

3. Apartment house, boarding house or lodging house.
4. Such accessory purposes as are customary or usual in connection with any of the foregoing purposes specified in this paragraph (b) and are incidental thereto, including a private garage.
(c) Provided, however, that if permission of the Selectmen is obtained in the manner provided in Section 16, buildings may be constructed, altered, enlarged or reconstructed, and used for one or more of the following purposes:

(a) Public or semi-public institution of a philanthropic, charitable or religious character, hospital, sanitarium, or other medical institution; but not a correctional institution or place of detention, unless such exists at the time of the acceptance of this By-Law.
(b) Such accessory purposes as are customary or usual in connection with any of the foregoing purposes and are incidental thereto, but not for any industry, trade, manufacturing or commercial purpose.

HEIGHTS—Section 9. Add to this line the words "Residence D Districts" so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph A. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph B. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph C. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph D. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph E. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph F. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph G. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph H. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph I. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph J. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph K. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph L. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

Paragraph M. Add the words "Residence D Districts" to the first line of this paragraph so that it will then read: "In the Residence D Districts, no building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or moved, so as to occupy at the level of the first story exclusive of uncovered steps more than thirty per cent of the area of the lot, provided, however, that this restriction shall not prohibit the erection of a private garage for not more than two cars which is accessory to and used with a building existing when this by-law takes effect and used as a residence for a single family."

MARRIAGES

DROUET — VAIL

Announcement has been received of the marriage on Saturday last at Rochester, New York, of Martha Lee Vail, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Vail, formerly of Chicago, and now residing in Cambridge, and Richard Noyes Drouet, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Drouet of Arlington Heights. The ceremony took place in the presence of a small group of friends and relatives, and was followed by a reception at the home of Miss Charlotte A. Faber, a teacher in the Rochester High School, and a former classmate of the groom's mother at Wellesley College. The guests were then tendered a dinner by Miss Faber at the Century Club. The couple will make their home in Rochester where the groom is engaged in business, having been transferred to that city from Boston last November.

GREENLAW — MAULLEY

With a simple home wedding to be performed by Rev. Clifford O. Simpson, minister of the Park Avenue Congregational church, Mrs. Mildred F. McAulley of 4 Florence terrace will become the wife of George W. Greenlaw of Cliff street tomorrow (Friday) evening at seven o'clock.

Following the ceremony there will be a wedding supper attended only by Rev. and Mrs. Simpson and members of the immediate families: Mrs. McAulley's two daughters, Mrs. Henry Doane of Wayland and Mrs. Arthur G. Smart of this town, and their husbands; Mr. Greenlaw's daughter, Mrs. Warren Deane of this town, and her husband, and his two sons and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Greenlaw, Jr., of Arlington, and H. Elton Greenlaw of Somerville.

The couple will sail on Saturday from New York for the West Indies and South America. They will return to Arlington in March.

Arlington Man is Judge in Hood Slogan Contest

William A. Muller of this town will be one of the judges in the Safety Slogan Contest announced by H. P. Hood & Sons as the opening feature of their 1939 Safety Campaign. With Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin and F. B. Sargent, the other judges, he will decide on the slogan which will win the $25 first prize offered by the company and the 11 other cash prizes which will be awarded for acceptable slogans.

The slogan contest will close February 7th and immediately after that the Company will begin an intensive drive to further reduce accidents. D. C. Davis of the accident prevention committee of 100 of Hood employees, is in general charge of the effort, which has the approval of police departments and safety workers throughout New England. Full information about the contest and the safety campaign has been furnished to Chief Archie F. Bullock of the Arlington police department.

BIG TOWN HALL AUDIENCE THRILLED BY GRAND OPERA

Gounod's "Faust," a lyric drama with libretto by J. Barbier and M. Carré, lends itself particularly to the concert form.

PETER BODGE

On the stage, behind a gauze drop was the large chorus, which was made visible only when singing by use of special lighting effects. The orchestra was placed on the floor, leaving the space before the footlights for the principals in the cast. There were as follows:

Faust..... Bruce Norman
Mephistopheles..... Henry Kelly
Valentine, Margarita's Brother..... Martin Albrecht
Wagner, a student..... Louis Pasco
Margarita..... Joan Ruth Siebel, a youth..... Frances Perry
Martha, friend of Margarita..... Edna Holmes

Everyone is familiar with the story of "Faust," an old man who longs for youth. The devil appears, who shows him a vision of Margarita (behind the gauze curtain) and promises the old man youth, and the delights of love, in return for his soul. The old man yields to temptation and the transformation takes place. His successful wooing of the fair damsel, and its tragic results makes the story complete.

The costumes of the principals and their make-up (particularly that of Mephistopheles) were all fine.

Joan Ruth as Margarita, was very lovely, and sang her difficult role with clear enunciation and beautiful voice.

Bruce Norman, who sang the part of "Faust" has a pleasing voice and sang with abandon. With imposing physique and polished baritone voice, Henry Kelly was a fine Mephistopheles. One could not always hear what he said, but his voice was thrilling.

Frances Perry, as Siebel, a youth in love with Margarita, sang her arias with full beautiful mezzo voice. Although she was, of course, playing the part of a young man, her personal beauty could not be hidden behind that fact.

The work of the chorus was fine; one could but wish it had been placed not quite so far back. The orchestra, under the baton of Peter T. Bodge, was very fine; but at all time too loud, perhaps an inescapable result, placed as it was far out in the hall.

The announcement that another opera may be given by the same company later in the season, was vociferously applauded.

The Legion Band is to be complimented on its effort which proved so successful in bringing such beautiful music, well done, to Arlington.

Measure it by Telephone, son

"TN miles it's a big country, son. But by telephone it's no bigger than a telephone."

"Throughout this country, just as in New England, people have the best telephone service in the world at the lowest possible cost. They turn to it for help in emergencies. To save time. To do business. To be near loved ones."

"Our country is like a neighborhood, son, because the telephone fits its needs so well."

It fits them today and will fit them tomorrow, because in Bell Telephone Laboratories thousands of keen minds work constantly to improve service.

It's a centralized job, benefiting all Bell System companies and their customers. No one company could do it so well or so cheaply.

"The Citizens Committee has gone along in the past, suffering defeat, because one man can dictate its actions, and can instruct all committees he appoints, so that he, and he alone, controls all endorsements and actions. This chairman has come to think that the political power of Arlington is his property, and that it is a sort of insolence for any citizen or group of citizens to aspire to any part of that power."

The voters have nothing to say. They are hoodwinked into believing that their best interests are being served. When only forty or fifty voters meet under controlled direction, to endorse candidates, what consideration is given to the views and opinions of the 19,000 citizens voters whose representative the candidate is to be? What could be worse for town government than a situation like this?

"To lodge all power in one group and keep it there is to insure bad government, and the sure and gradual deterioration of public morals. The Citizens Committee states, by the action of its by-laws, that when it chooses a candidate, that endorsement is final. If it chooses unwisely, that is a misfortune, but, it says, no loyal member of the committee has any right to withhold his vote from the endorsed candidate!"

"Mr. Cutler remarked at Monday's meeting, and it is a part of the records, 'this is the first time the committee has, in its history, ever endorsed a Democrat for selectman' and in the next sentence he said, 'I approached Mr. Harold N. Anderson, and told him that if he ran for the office of selectman, he would be given the endorsement of the committee.' And Mr. Anderson is a Republican. The inconsistencies of Mr. Cutler's remarks show his state of mind. He, and he alone, it seems, has taken it upon himself to endorse the candidate this year. The authority is a moot question, and I would be glad of an opportunity to debate the question with Mr. Cutler, publicly, at any time and any place he may choose."

"My interests are always and only for the welfare of the town of Arlington. We, the citizens and voters, must not submit to dictatorship of any sort, in the conduct of those who would control our town, or its officials, or its people. It is interesting to recall that in the case of the three previously elected selectmen, dictatorship methods were tried, and went down to defeat, as they deserved."

Arlington Man Principal Candidate for Annapolis

Representative Edith Nourse Rogers of this district has designated an Arlington boy, John A. Donnelly, as her principal candidate for admission to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. At the same time she named Frank M. Nelson of Belmont as another principal and Fred G. Cameron of Winchester as alternate to both.

Reception

A large committee is making final arrangements for the reception to Rev. and Mrs. Charles Taber Hall to be held in St. John's parish hall next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. The rector is being honored on the occasion of his twenty-fifth anniversary with St. John's church.

EIGHT HUNDRED AT BOYS' CLUB SHOW

lice department, the show went off without a hitch and made a tremendous hit with the crowd, which was in an uproar most of the time.

And what is more, all the advertised professional bouts showed up as advertised, the list including none other than Dick Hogan, who was a semi-finalist on the Joe Louis-Thomas card a short time ago. In addition to the professional boxers, two of Paul Bowser's talented grunt and groan boys put on a great show with Mickey (Mayor of East Arlington) Burns the third man in the ring, and the Charlestown Boys' Club sent over several good bouts.

But when all was said and done, the real talent came right from the Arlington club. The crowd really went for the snappy little scrap between two twelve-year-olds, Robert Tobin and Edward Tobin (no relation), but it remained for another Tobin, "Cud" the football star, and William Fitzpatrick to really bring the fans to their feet and make them shout themselves hoarse. These two big boys started swinging from the floor from the opening bell and kept it up with amazing endurance until Deane Moores cut the last round in half in order to prevent a double massacre. And kind-hearted Deane got roundly booed for his pains.

John (Shanty) Hogan and Go-go Walsh, another pair of light heavies, put up a very good show for two rounds, but they were barely able to hold each other up during the third. Excluding the professionals, by far the most scientific bout of the evening was staged by Brick Preston and Frankie Casali. The crowd, of course, liked the wild ones better, but these two fellows have really got something.

The final bout of the evening was ever saw. Two old-time negro fighters put on a show which was not just ridiculous but was actually laughable. One was about six feet and a half tall and the other was hardly an inch over five feet. The little fellow, after taking a terrible pasting, finally carried off the honors.

TABLE TENNIS STARS TO PLAY EXHIBITION

Les Lowry, holder of the New England men's singles championship; co-holder of the eastern U. S. men's doubles championship; Massachusetts closed champion and ranked near the top nationally. Les, who came to Boston a few years ago, bringing with him the Illinois state championship, has lived up to his reputation by capturing practically all the major New England Championship events. This nineteen-year-old star has one of the finest offensive and defensive games in the country.

Mrs. Mae Cloutier of Arlington, fourth ranking women player of the U. S., the highest position yet attained by any New England player; winner of the Massachusetts State Women's title for two successive years; runner-up in the eastern championships and semi-finalist at the nationals held at Philadelphia, will also compete to prove that women can play on a par with men.

In addition to these two national stars, John Holden, ranking Massachusetts player, who is considered by many to have one of the best style games in New England, will give these players plenty of competition.

Completing this list of stars is Norman Aronson of Arlington, Mystic Valley men's singles champion and twice winner of the Boston retail store championship; also ranking Massachusetts player.

John Wright of the Boston Herald-Traveler, president of the Greater Boston Table Tennis League and a resident of Arlington, will be master of ceremonies.

Chief of Police Archie Bullock, president of the Boys' Club, anticipates a capacity house to view this outstanding sports event.

I have learned silence from the talkative, toleration from the intolerant, and kindness from the unkind; yet strange, I am ungrateful to those teachers.

A. H. S. HOCKEY TEAM FACES CRUCIAL TEST SATURDAY

Will Battle Stoneham for Top Place in League Standing. Locals Need Tie or Win to Stay in Lead.

The Arlington High hockey team faces its stiffest test of the season Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden, when it meets Stoneham in the crucial battle of the year. The game will in all probability decide the winner of the Greater Boston League, and the Eddie Shore Trophy. Arlington needs a win or a tie, while the Stoneham bunch has been playing great hockey for the last couple of weeks and are pointing to this battle.

Bob Sanders, Joe Hickey and Bobby Benishmol will be used against the strong Stoneham line. They will not be counted on to score but rather to hold the aggressive Stoneham lads in check. Malone, Burns, and Art Blanchard are expected to carry the offensive burden. Lyons and Lindy Blanchard will be at their defense posts with Johnny Spinner holding forth in the straits. The contest is second on the list and should get under way about 1:30.

Icemen Stay in Top Hole with Rindge Tie

The Arlington High hockey team which has been faltering badly during the last two weeks, hit what we hope will be their low point in gaining only a 3-3 deadlock with the lowly Rindge Tech sextet last Saturday at the Arena. The local aggregation was very lucky not to lose their grip on the top step of the Greater Boston league standing.

Coch Down's men have not been playing the same brand of hockey they displayed earlier in the season. Particularly in the first two periods, Rindge had the better of the battle. Before sending his lads out for the last period, Downes shook up his lines and this improved their play immensely. George Malone, Art Blanchard and Ed Burns constituted the new first wave with Joe Hickey, Bob Sanders and Bob Benishmol forming the second combine. The latter replaced Dutch Rowe, who had not made much of an impression during the first twenty minutes of action. These shifts undoubtedly sparked the outfit and they came back to gain the deadlock.

Things looked dark for the Arlington icemen when DesRoches put Rindge ahead by two markers at the 2:35 mark in the last period. But after this tally the Technicians were unable to get the puck out of their zone until the game was over. The revised Arlington bunch were fighting their heads off to keep their slate clean. George Malone proved to be the man of the hour and sunk both the second and the equalizing goals. These two scores left him in second place in the league scoring and made him the top local goal getter with seven to his credit.

HIGH SCHOOL 5 TO MAKE LAST STAND

The Arlington basketball team makes one last effort to pull itself into the Suburban League championship this week. Tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at three, Newton comes here to play, and several weeks ago these boys came through with a 34-24 win over Arlington. The man Arlington must watch is center Bill Flagg, who has proven that he is one of the outstanding performers in the circuit.

Next Tuesday Coach Lowder's charges journey to Rindge for a return engagement. In the first game Arlington won 22-19 as a result of George Mernick's 21 points. However, we feel Arlington should win this one.

Royals Lose Close Fight to St. Alphonsus

The Arlington Royals lost a close encounter to the St. Alphonsus Club of Roxbury last Saturday evening at the local high school. The final tabulations showed the Roxbury boys on top, 38-35. The largest crowd of the season, about 250, watched this contest, which turned out to be the roughest combat witnessed this year. There was one regular fist fight and several participants were put out of the game for one reason or another.

The Arlington club was on the long end of a 16-15 count after the first half. The winners went ahead in the third session, but the Royals tied up the contest with but two minutes left to play. The breaks were with St. Alphonsus and their long ones dropped. These gave them the margin and they won the battle. Charlie Lowder and Tony Sarasky were the outstanding men in the local unit.

This Saturday evening Manager Churchill brings the Duke Club of Cambridge to the new gym. Their team is a star-studded outfit and they should be able to at least hold their own with the locals. The Royals J. V.'s will play a preliminary game starting at 7:30.

Local Hoopsters In Finest Fettle Beating Brookline

The Arlington High basketball team displayed top form and thoroughly trounced Brookline High, 38-15, last Friday afternoon at the new gym. Coach Lowder's men could not miss and it was by far their best exhibition of the current campaign. The score could have been a great deal larger but the Arlington tutor took advantage of the situation and gave his reserves some first team competition. Twinkle Glennon led the locals in the scoring column, with four baskets and two free throws for a total of ten points. Mernick was close behind with nine. The most encouraging item of the afternoon was Eddie Hughes' greatly improved play. Not only did he run up eight points, the largest number scored by an Arlington backcourtman this year, but he set up several of the boys in grand style.

Brookline was beaten after the first five minutes of action. They managed to score only one basket throughout the initial period and trailed 14-2 when it was over. The local aggregation has usually been a rather slow starter, but Friday they got off with a bang.

To say the least, the local fans were happy about the whole thing. Three weeks ago in Brookline, these same teams met, with Arlington coming through in a close one.

The Arlington seconds also emerged victorious, but theirs was a much closer affair, the final ending 16-12. The funniest thing we have seen in a long time occurred during this battle. Jim Devlin, Brookline guard, was sent into the game as a sub. After he had been in about thirty seconds he got his hands on the ball under the Brookline basket. Instead of passing up the floor he became confused, turned around, and let fire. It was a fortunate thing for his teammates that his eye was none too keen, because the points would have been added to the locals' total. Rith Ryholm was the high scorer with seven points to his credit.

Tower Bowling League

The winners of the first half in the Arlington Heights Tower Association, Inc. bowling league were Tom Mott's "Puritans," who nosed out Norman Jenkinson's "Coolidges" on the last night. Captain Mott's team was made up as follows: Davis, Donahoe, Flanagan, Haggerty and Killian.

The team standings at the end of the first half were:

	W.	L.	Pinfall
Puritans	35	21	18441
Coolidges	34	22	18647
Pine Ridges	29	27	18057
Hawthornes	28	28	18605
Cedars	27	29	18750
Kenilworths	26	30	18559
Grand Views	23	33	18431
Highways	22	34	18301

The month of January saw no changes in the high individual string with Surette still high with 141 and Regut still holding the high three-string with 336.

The five high individual averages are:

	St's	Pinfall	Avg.
H. D. Hill	36	3445	95.7
C. Surette	48	4582	95.5
E. Bolton	51	4859	95.3
J. V. Kelly	54	2278	94.9
E. McFarland	51	4832	94.7

Several trades and swapping of players were made for the second half so that the teams are now very evenly matched and a great second half is anticipated. Archie Blum's Pine Ridges and Gene Blanchard's Cedars have got off to a flying start, each having won 10 and lost 2, but all of the other teams are ready to take them down a few pegs.

The team standings at the end of January in the second half are as follows:

	W.	L.	Pinfall
Pine Ridges	10	2	4278
Cedars	10	2	4179
Puritans	9	3	4119
Grand Views	6	6	4095

Cambridge Latin Swamps Arlington

The Cambridge Latin basketball team easily defeated Coach Bill Lowder's Arlington five last Tuesday afternoon at the Latin gymnasium. The victors proved unexpectedly strong and completely outclassed the local aggregation. Again the Arlington sharpshooters had very bad luck with their attempts and their passes were none too accurate, either, quite a few of them being intercepted. The one-sided score of 37-21 would have been much closer if the number of shots had anything to do with it, but Tuesday just was not Arlington's day.

This loss dims the Arlington championship hopes, but they still have a chance. Their only hope is to finish the rest of their schedule undefeated.

McGrail was top man with 11 points. O'Dwyer and Mernick tied for the runner-up berth with ten apiece.

The Arlington seconds also received a good shellacking. Their score was 21-10 with Culhane taking scoring honors by running up nine points.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP NEWS

Troop 8
The play, "Toinette and the Elves" was recently given by the second class girls. The characters were: Daphne Tait as Toinette; Susan MacCallum as Mother; Ruth Littlewood as Marie; Joyce Thompson as Marc; Marilyn Sheehan as Pierre; Elizabeth Shepard as Jeanette; Doris Washburn as Hollyberry; Shirley Knox as Icicle; Mary Lynn Moore as Mistletoe; and Marion Snell as Evergreen.
"Good News on Christmas Morning" was sung by the advanced tenderfoot girls and a dance, "Little Red Handkerchief," was done by the new tenderfoot girls.

The mothers of the girls were invited and enjoyed ice cream, cake and candy for refreshments. Mrs. Young was gratified with the results of her work on the play, as it was very well done.

Doris Washburn, Scribe.

Troops 15 and 19

Troop 15 and 19 had three meetings in December, with an extra meeting for the Christmas party. The work at the meetings was given over to the regular classes and preparations for future events.

The Christmas party and investiture ceremony was held in the Brackett school playground.

It began with a reading by Virginia Walstrom on the topic, "Our Chaiet," which proved to be very interesting.

Then Betty Haggerty, Ilse Lafert, Virginia Sanborg, Mary Ann Baker, and Helen Bolton gave reports on Christmas in France, Germany, Sweden, England, and New Year's in China. This gave us an idea of some old traditional customs used only on Christmas in the different countries.

When this ended the young girls did a folk dance called "7 Jumps," while the older girls did one called the Irish Jig.

The Trefol program followed, with Phyllis Haggerty as the girl in green, Jane Washburn as the girl in gold, Margaret O'Connor as the girl in pink, Barbara Brown as the girl in blue, and Audrey Hackett as the girl in white. This introduced the serious part of the investiture.

When these girls had retired, the new girls came forward in patrols, to say their promises and receive their pins. Many girls were proud to show a glistening gold trefol, signifying that they had become members of the Great Family of the Girl Scouts of America. Two leaders and twenty-four girls were invested, one leader, Mrs. Washburn, as a captain, and Mrs. Haggerty as a lieutenant. The girls and leaders were invested by Mrs. Duncan, captain of troop 15.

The six baskets that the girls made up for shut-ins, the crafts, and the international work, were on exhibition at the rear of the hall.

Then followed the party with a beautifully decorated tree, and the giving and receiving of gifts. The troop gave each girl a picture on which was written the Girl Scout laws.

The young girls (new troop 19) gave their captain, Mrs. Washburn, a big brooch which consisted of two clips that could be inserted in the pin to form one big pin.

The girls of Troop 15 gave their captain, Mrs. Duncan, a three-ropes string of pearls.

The troop committees which consisted of (troop 15) Mrs. Haggerty (chairman) Mrs. Sherman and Mrs. Monahan (Troop 19) Mrs. Dwelly (chairman) Mrs. Thorburne and Mrs. Walstrom, all of whom served ice cream and cleverly decorated cakes, to the visitors and girls. This ended the investiture ceremony and Christmas party that will ever be a happy memory which will linger in our hearts forever.

Jane Washburn, Scribe.

On December 21, we had our dancing class under Miss Aldrich's direction. Following that we had an actress and becomes one, to the detriment of her home-life. That virile stage actor, Ian Keith, has a prominent role and Ian Hunter who has been with Miss Francis since “I Found Stella Parrish” way back in 1935, is also on hand.

The talents of Kay Francis have, of late, been subjected to “B” pictures. Perhaps it is because she plans retirement from the screen. In any event the glamorous Kay lends beauty and sparkle to any scene in which she appears and can still act circles around the Hedy La Marrs of tomorrow.

“Gone With the Wind”
 Has a Cast
 In 1935, David O. Selznick, Hollywood's maker of ultra-magnificent movies, after reading the galley proofs, bought the motion picture rights to an unknown, uncut novel called “Gone With the Wind.” The world read it in 1936 and since then Mr. Selznick has allowed this piece of literature to become the perpetual publicity department of Selznick-International Studios. The public acclaim of the book had every glamour girl chosen to be Scarlett O'Hara, every male heart-mangler, Rhett Butler.

The wonder of wonders! These important roles have at last been assigned and here below is one of the first credit sheets in cast form to be seen by the public eye.

“Gone With the Wind,” a Selznick-International production, from the novel by Margaret Mitchell.

The Cast
 Clark Gable Scarlett O'Hara
 Vivien Leigh Ashley Wilkes
 Leslie Howard Melanie
 Olivia de Havilland Gerald O'Hara
 Walter Connolly Rhett Butler
 Fredric March Scarlett O'Hara
 Katharine Hepburn Ashley Wilkes
 Tyrone Power Melanie
 Janet Gaynor Gerald O'Hara

“Golem” to be Filmed in Arlington by the Cinema Appreciation Club

In its quest of weird tales to be used as screen material, the Cinema Appreciation Club of Arlington has considered such original stories as “The Electric Man” and “Professor Death” as well as the Poe and Stevenson classics. The final decision was to bring to the screen the film narrative of the “Golem,” central figure of one of the most incredible legends heard from the land of Palestine. The term, “Golem,” signifies something all-powerful, monstrous and utterly unearthly.

“Golem” will be written and adapted for the screen by the members of the club. It will contain an original musical score and will be directed by an illustrious stage star of Boston.

Town TALK
 A thirty-two-foot sloop, owned by J. J. Kirsir of 24 Surry road, was one of the casualties of Monday's storm. The yacht broke loose from its moorings in Lynn harbor during the gale and was almost carried out to sea. She now lies frozen solidly in the ice, and her owner is not yet prepared to say how much damage has been done.

Funeral services for John Gonzolas, husband of the late Helena (Higgins) Gonzolas, were held this morning from the home of his son, John Gonzolas, 98 Milton street. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Stephen's church in Boston.

—Mrs. Alice M. (Fox) Cochran, sister of Miss Edith M. Fox of this town, died at her home in New Haven, on January 24. Funeral services, which were attended by several Arlington friends, were held at the Winter Hill Congregational church in Somerville, last Saturday, and burial was in Woodlawn cemetery. The deceased was the wife of Edwin P. Cochran.

—Miss Hilda L. Frost of 121 Appleton street has been honored by having one of her poems, “Portrait of a Young Girl,” accepted for publication in the Crown Anthology of Verse, a compilation of contemporary poetry. Miss Frost is an art teacher and a lover of travel and good literature. She has published articles on travel, arts and crafts, short stories and poetry in poetry journals, newspapers and such anthologies as “Bright Excalibur,” “Speaks Afar,” “Contemporary American Women Poets.”

Club Activities

SMITH COLLEGE CLUB

The Cambridge Smith College Club will hold its next meeting on February 6th at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Frederick White of 7 Mercer circle, Cambridge. The speaker of the evening will be Prof. Paul Robert Lieder of Smith College. Mrs. White will be assisted by Miss Mary May.

REBEKAH LODGE

Plans are being made by Ida F. Butler Rebekah Lodge to hold a Penny Sale after the meeting next Monday evening.

GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Byran S. Perman of Chestnut Hill will speak on “Continuous Bloom in the Garden” at the meeting of the Arlington Garden Club, Wednesday, February 8, at two o'clock in Junior Library Hall.

Also in Junior Library Hall there will be another of the series of garden talks Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, this one by Paul Dempsey of the Waltham Field Station, who will speak on soils and fertilizers. This class is open to members and to those on the waiting list.

KIWANIS CLUB

The Arlington Kiwanis Club plans a charity bridge for February 15, to be held in American Legion Hall under the chairmanship of Allan Cowie.

A new member was welcomed last week—Forrest Litchfield, credit manager of the Kelly Oil Company.

TREFOIL LEAGUE

The meeting Monday evening, January 23, was held at the home of Mrs. Douglas E. Currie, 60 Paul Revere road. During the business meeting, conducted by the president, Miss Ruth Freeman, many ideas were discussed for raising money.

After the business meeting, papers were read by League members. Miss Beatrice Sanby chose for her subject, “Clothes.” Mrs. Sherman Crockett spoke on “Persia,” and Mrs. George Hansis told about “Sun Valley, Idaho,” the coming year round playground. This latter topic was especially interesting, not only for the fact that skiing is becoming an outstanding sport, but that one of the League's new members, Mrs. Gertrude Twombly, until recently was a resident of that district and could add many interesting details. The president read excerpts from the book, “Grandma Called it Carnal.”

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ruth Perley.

A Valentine party will be held on Monday evening, February 12, at the home of Mrs. Allan Kennedy, Spencer street, Lexington.

ST. MALACHI COURT

The next regular meeting of St. Malachi Court, No. 81, Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, will take place on Thursday evening, February 9th, in A. O. H. hall. After the business session a social for members will take place. Whist and bridge will be enjoyed by those present and prizes awarded. The entertainment committee is assisting Mrs. Kathleen M. Cunneen, chief ranger, in making plans for the party.

Miss Mary E. McCarthy, deputy high chief ranger, is expected to be present.

REBEKAH LODGE

The noble and vice grands of Ida F. Butler Rebekah Lodge, No. 152, Mrs. Clara Copp and Mrs. Florence Wickwire, were guests at a “President Officers Night,” Wednesday, January 25th, of Golden Rule Rebekah Lodge, No. 23, when the noble grand officiated as L. S. past noble grand at Melrose.

On Thursday, January 26th the noble grand officiated as Financial Secretary of Mary Washington Rebekah Lodge, No. 1, of Boston.

On Monday evening, February 6, there will be a penny sale after the regular meeting of Ida F. Butler Rebekah Lodge, No. 152, in Odd Fellows Hall, 661 Massachusetts avenue.

ZONTA CLUB

The evening meeting of the Zonta Club of Arlington was held on January 26, at Seiler's 1775 House. Miss Bernice H. Holmes, executive secretary of the Arlington Community Chest, was welcomed into membership.

Deane Moores, director of the Arlington Boys' Club was the guest speaker and he explained the work of the club. A Question period followed.

Mrs. Bertha Murphy is planning a penny sale to be held sometime in March or April in order to earn the balance of the budget so that the club may carry on the work of the eye clinic in the Arlington public schools.

Thursday evening, February 9, the club will hold its birthday party at the Old House in Lexington.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Parents' Night for the Junior Woman's Club will be on February 6. Club members are urged to bring their parents to this meeting which will be held at the First Baptist church on Monday. Living pictures, which proved to be so popular last year, are to be shown again but on a different theme.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Arlington Council, No. 109, Knights of Columbus, at their next meeting in Odd Fellows' Hall, Tuesday, February 7th, will initiate a large class into the first degree of the order.

Charles Sheehan, chairman of the study club, will outline the plans and schedule of the club at this meeting.

Following the degree a luncheon for the candidates and members will be served by arrangement of Lecturer Seretto and William F. McManus.

WELFARE COUNCIL

The regular monthly meeting of the Welfare Council will be held in the town hall hearing room tomorrow (Friday) at 10 a. m.

SEARCHLIGHT CLUB

The subject of the proposed sales tax is one which is of current interest just at this time, and the Searchlight Club has made arrangements for an informal debate on the question for its next meeting, Thursday, February 9, at 2:30, at the Ravine street home of Mrs. Arthur A. Lawson.

George E. Pellissier, director of the organization department of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations, will speak in favor of the tax, while F. S. Hurley of the Massachusetts Retail Trade Board will oppose it.

F. of D. Bridge Most Successful on Record

With Miss Dorothy Delay chairman of the big committee in charge, the Friends of the Drama put on the most successful bridge party in their history at the clubhouse last Friday evening. With the help of a group of telephone girls, every member of the club received a personal call, with the result that the attendance was larger than ever before.

The stage was crowded with tables, and so were the smoking rooms. President Arthur W. Sampson and James F. Carmody, Jr., acted as marshals and kept in constant circulation to see that there were no casualties.

After an evening of play, with prizes being awarded to the winners at each table, delicious sandwiches, coffee and cake were served by a committee composed of Mrs. Charles Frederick, Mrs. Robert Clifford, Mrs. David R. Kennedy, Mrs. Jonathan Cartmel, Mrs. Gladys Collier, Mrs. Mabel Ellis, Miss Barbara Sears and Miss Eileen Connor. Edith Ann Clifford and Ruth Stevens were the candy girls.

Miss Delay also gives credit to this telephone committee: Mrs. J. Stanley Coleman, Miss Ruth Fowler, Miss Virginia Hart, Mrs. James T. Snow, Miss Eileen Connor, Mrs. Paul Chandler, Mrs. Chester Ginder, Mrs. Leticia Llewellyn, Miss Dorothy Ring, Miss Bernice Walkinshaw, and Mrs. Harry Burnett, with the palm going to Miss Dorothy Littlefield for bringing the most guests.

Miss Katherine Hart and Mrs. Beatrice Ring had charge of the prizes, Curtis K. Pinkham printed the tickets, Dr. George W. Bowlby, Chester Ginder and Carl Fowler collected all the tables, while Charlie Frederick juggled all the chairs. Most of the really dirty work was done by Norman Watt, Bill Carr, Elliott Hanna, Dr. David Kennedy, Gladys Stevens, Mrs. Kennedy and Lillian Snow.

HACKETT-ALDRICH PUPILS IN VARIED RECITAL PROGRAM

31 Bonad road, Saturday evening. The program opened with extemporaneous speeches by the dramatic club members. Their topics were well chosen, and delivered with an ease and confidence which might be the envy of many adults. Nearby points of interest were discussed. Betty Sherman spoke of “The Indian Fountain,” by Cyrus E. Dallin. Evelyn Miller chose Robbins Library. Doris Norrington of Somerville told about Tufts and Jackson colleges, and Audrey-June Hackett took the Jason Russell House. The Water Tower at the Heights was the point of interest described by Carol LoCascio.

The two babies of the school, June Sylvester and Helen McLeod, were captivated in their recitations. Baby June wanted to catch a birdie by putting salt on his tail, and she acted as though she thoroughly enjoyed the pursuit. Baby Helen brought her baby, a dolly of course, but she played the part of an anxious dolly mother to perfection. Kenneth Lincoln admired all men who had “Dirty Hands.” “The Icicles” was the title of Janet McNeill's reading. Ruth Kenney dislikes her “Bedtime” very genuinely. Edward Emery is evidently his daddy's “Chum.”

ARLINGTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK

You Don't Have to Worry About the Name of Your Mortgage Plan

when you place your mortgage. The important consideration is the arrangement of conditions. If these are so arranged that your mortgage will never be a burden to you so long as it exists, you have the right plan. The next consideration should be the type of institution which offers you the mortgage—its experience, its record, its reliability. This Co-operative Bank is part of a system which has proved itself reliable over a period of more than 60 years. The mortgage plans offered by this Bank are approved by the State of Massachusetts and all mortgage transactions are subject to State supervision.

“At the Party” was the contribution of Barbara Knight. A funny boy from Holland was very ably depicted by Barbara-Ann Howe. It is a question whether the audience or the speaker enjoyed Richard Sherman's version of “Tommy and the Sexton” the more. The next little reader, Judith Zartarian, dedicated her recitation to her “Aunts.” Carol Wilkins made a nice impression with “Practicing Time.” A monologue by Mary Elisabeth O'Neil was well done.

Phyllis Anderson and Jack Deacey were presented prizes for public appearances. Grace Kennerson received a prize for effort. Dorothy Bentley was rewarded for speaking so clearly and distinctly. The program closed with readings of exceptional merit by the Alphabet Club: A. Audrey Hackett; B. Betty Sherman; C. Carol LoCascio; D. Doris Norrington, and E. Evelyn Miller.

Girl Scout Notes

Sixty leaders and council members gathered together at the old gymnasium on Friday evening, January 27th, to sing and dance with Janet Tobitt. Miss Tobitt has published two or three song books for Girl Scouts, Inc. At the present she is working on a publication that concerns festival day entertainments.

Miss Tobitt is a British subject and first became interested in Girl Scout work through her activity with the Girl Guide movement. She has supervised the Girl Guide singing program and has, also, published song material in Great Britain.

For the past five years she has been connected with the Girl Scout organization in the United States and has done much to encourage better singing and folk dancing, as a member of the staffs of Camp Edith Macy and Pine Tree Camp.

Tickets for the 110th Cavalry and Girl Scout band concert February 12 may be obtained from leaders, council members or Girl Scout headquarters.

Lexington Bugle & Drum Corps was the guest of the Arlington Girl Scout Bugle & Drum Corps on Wednesday of this week. Members of the Leaders Association and Council members were present to witness the presentation of chevrons. Mrs. Clifford R. Gleason, commissioner, presented chevrons to Barbara Birch, sergeant bugler; Nancy Duncan, corporal bugler; Virginia Wunderly, sergeant drummer, and Natalie Chick, corporal drummer.

ALWAYS PROVIDING

Always providing that he likes music, of course, anyone, even a Republican of the most rock-ribbed variety, who went to the performance of Gounod's "Faust," given last Friday night by the Commonwealth Chorus and the State Symphony Orchestra, must admit that at least one branch of the W. P. A. has its virtues. It is a fine thing to support music in a form which can ordinarily be heard by you and me only over the radio. It is even finer to support musicians, who might otherwise be forced to abandon their art.

It grates on us as much as anyone to see a whole crowd of W. P. A. employees, sometimes erroneously called "workers," leaning on their shovels and otherwise frittering away the taxpayers' money. Off hand, it would look like an impossibility to actually catch one of them working. Nevertheless, some of them must exert themselves at times, because some projects are actually completed. And we are not forgetting for a minute the splendid work the W. P. A. did in clearing the hurricane debris.

We seem to be a bit involved, but what we are leading up to is that the W. P. A. musicians are, right on the face of it truly workers. Perhaps it is only obvious to one who has a slight smattering of music together with some small knowledge of the difficulties of staging a production, but it is true that a performance like that of "Faust" cannot be put on without a tremendous amount of labor, and conscientious labor at that.

The arts have never been self-supporting. If the artist did not die a pauper in an unheated attic, then he was supported by someone—a rich patron, or even the king. Now that rich patrons are nearly extinct in this country, or at least not numerous enough to support any but the very best, it would seem to be up to the government to support the not-so-goods. And you've got to have the lesser in order to someday enjoy the better.

For a long time we have held the belief that since the government was itself supported by the people, it was, of course, in no position to support anyone else. Nevertheless, if the W. P. A. must hand out gratuities to someone, it cannot go far wrong by sponsoring the arts and artists—that is always providing they really are artists.

A BIG POLICEMAN

"Prepare to the limit for war—and at the same time take every possible legislative precaution against becoming involved in potential wars that are not directly our own concern." That, in a sentence, seems to be the attitude of Congress today.

The details of the Administration's long discussed armament program have at last come to light. The President has urged that with "as great speed as possible," a special appropriation of $552,000,000 be authorized and spent for the tools of war. Three hundred millions of this, according to plan, is to go for army airplanes; $110,000,000 is to go for anti-aircraft guns, automatic rifles, field pieces, etc.; $38,000,000 for strengthening our seacoast defenses; $27,000,000 to increase the normal garrison in the Canal Zone; $44,000,000 for naval bases; $21,000,000 for navy airplanes, and $10,000,000 for training civilian air pilots, to build up a reserve of great combat fliers in case of necessity.

During the 1940 fiscal year about a billion more will be spent for military expansion and maintenance, in addition to this "emergency" half-billion, making a total of about a billion and a half. That comes to a little more than $10 for every man, woman and child in America—a sum not so large as exaggerated early estimates indicated, but still the largest in our peace-time history.

The American people haven't had a chance to vote "aye" or "nay" on this program officially. But, unofficially, they have made their voices heard, and the chorus of approval has apparently drowned out the minority of dissenters. A late Institute of Public Opinion poll, for example, shows that the public is overwhelmingly back of the armament program; that the bulk of our citizens feel that Germany is democracy's worst enemy, and favor a boycott of all German goods, and that 46 per cent of those queried believe we will have to fight Germany again in their lifetimes.

In Congress, sentiment in favor of big-scale armament is similarly great. But there is also the feeling that any major arms race breeds great dangers which must be carefully guarded against. Almost all the countries, when they go into expanding their military establishments, do it on the grounds of "national defense." And then, very often, their peoples find themselves involved in wars of offense. A number of influential senators, fearing that our hatred of dictators may reach the hysterical stage, are planning legislation to prevent the imposition of sanctions against any country which does not directly menace us—and to strengthen, not weaken, the terms of the Neutrality Act.

At the same time, sentiment in Congress in favor of rigorous isolation, even from our World War allies, seems to be on the increase. France's continuous series of government crises has weakened faith in her ability to hold her place as a dominant European power. And the feeling seems to be growing that the Chamberlain government is adopting certain fascist tactics—such as control of press and radio, and the suppression of anti-governmental expressions—which are not in accordance with democratic principles.

Most public sentiment seems to echo the old adage that a big policeman is better than a little one because he does not have to prove he is good.

WOODCUTS

As if Betty Howe hadn't had enough tough going recently with her protracted illness, Sunday afternoon someone ran over and killed her little dog.

Sometimes it's pretty hard on a struggling editor to know what to say and do. We sent a reviewer to a concert in town recently, and much to our surprise, the account she wrote proved to be merely tepid, when we expected enthusiasm. We asked the other musical member of the staff what he thought of the performance, and his description was "marvelous." It appeared that the very excellent soprano was exceeded only by the highly polished baritone.

"Why, what's he talking about," the reviewer demanded when confronted with that contradictory comment. "That fellow belongs on the W. P. A. all right, but he ought to be shoveling snow, not singing."

So buried were we in important news last week that we completely forgot the most important item in the list. A large group of friends gave this writer a surprise birthday party on the evening of January 21, and verily he was really and truly surprised. But even so, he was not half as surprised then as he was when he realized that there wasn't a word about the party in the paper. Why do we do those things!?

To anyone else who plans a surprise party for someone, let us give a tip. You can keep the victim in the very depths of darkness if you tell him that five or six people are coming in for supper and to play cards, and using that little group as a decoy, go ahead and invite fifty more. If he sees you preparing a salad big enough for an army, don't be alarmed. He'll think you are displaying the usual feminine stupidity, never suspecting where the real fault lies. You see, if a man thinks he knows it all, no one can tell him anything, even with the broadest of hints.

Because of the convenient fact that the Wood birthdays are pretty well bunched, it was really a joint party, although we must admit that we were the only one to be taken in completely. Consequently, brother Leonard and sister Barbara join with us in sincere appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Vonck, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Frost, Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Fowler, Mrs. Beatrice M. Ring, Miss Katherine Hart, Mr. Stowell Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis K. Pinkham, Dr. and Mrs. David R. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Center, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Winner, Mr. and Mrs. John Chipman, Mr. and Mrs. Russell T. Hamlet, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Carr, Dr. and Mrs. George W. Bowly. And I'll bet we've forgotten somebody.

We had an item in last week's paper to the effect that Selectman George H. Lowe, Jr., was very ill, with two nurses in twenty-four hour attendance. On Sunday the fogs on Arlington's public buildings were at half mast, so of course hundreds of people put two and two together. In this case, however, mathematics did not give the right answer. George is still a very sick boy, but he is very much alive, none the less. In fact, the thing which irks him the most is the probability that he will be able to take no active part in the coming local political campaign. The flags, incidentally, were at half mast for Sahag Arakelyan, Spanish War veteran.

The Citizens' Committee has made its endorsements with no startling departures this year. In fact, almost everyone should be satisfied, even if certain ones are not pleased. The unendorsed candidates didn't expect anything, anyway, and even the disappointed ones could see the handwriting on the wall some time ago. The list includes all the incumbents running for re-election, plus William C. Adams for selectman, J. Wilbert Anderson for tax collector, and Dr. Carl Barstow for the board of health.

Mr. Adams has been active with several local organizations, being particularly interested in the Arlington Boys' Club. Mr. Anderson has been assistant to the present tax collector for the past ten years and is highly regarded for his integrity and efficiency. Dr. Barstow is too well established as a highly successful Arlington physician to require further comment.

You know, every time we begin to think that our style is improving, grandpa has a way of bringing us up short. Yes, even though the old editor passed to his reward more than ten years ago, he can still show us a thing or two. Glance over the "Arlington in Review" column on this page, with particular reference to sixty-five years ago and see what you think.

TAPESTRY OF DREAMS

BY EDITH WYMAN

I wove a tapestry of all my dreams;
Fancies and precious hopes to hold,
With silken threads so gossamer and soft,
Of blue and rose, of green and gold.

Blue's azure dream was woven strong and firm
Within the pattern; there I found
Enduring qualities of friends held dear
With which the passing years abound.

The green threads of my dreams recall the Spring,
And Nature's verdant loveliness;
All life renewed from winter's dark and cold,
While flowers cover ugliness.

My tapestry took on new beauty as
Love's dream glowed with a rosy hue;
And, glorifying all with radiance, gleamed
The golden sheen of dreams come true.

Life Insurance Company Will Help Home Building

Many home owners in the Metropolitan Boston district are taking advantage of the modernized plan of home financing, according to the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company. Inquiries are increasing concerning the Company's campaign to aid owners of one and two-family homes in this territory.

Francis J. Carney, well known attorney, and chairman of the Mortgage Loan and Real Estate Committee of the company, stated that the company, with ample funds available, desires to do its part in bringing about a building boom and to assist home owners in maintaining and setting up good homes.

"Persons coming to us," Mr. Carney said, "will have prompt and courteous attention, and mortgage loans granted will have reasonable interest rates and friendly servicing during the term."

Sixty-Five Years Ago This Week

Last Saturday evening, James Furberson and Henry Burns had a prize fight of ten rounds. Where were the police; laying bets?

On January 23, about 50 friends of Warren Rawson, Jr., assembled at his father's residence on Charlestown street and surprised him on the occasion of his birthday. The usual games incident to such an occasion were indulged in, a bountiful collation was partaken of, and the company separated at a fairly reasonable hour.

Last week with the thermometer registering well below zero, one of our engineers took a few of the new members of the fire department and put them through various orders. One of these was "Follow me with the stream." No sooner had he uttered those words when he received the full force of said stream in the back of the neck. As the weather was extremely cold, the sudden application was somewhat unpleasant, but since our engineer is not slow to anger, he soon had generated enough heat to keep him warm. There was, in fact, enough surplus to warm the hides of more than one of the recruits.

Last Friday afternoon Herbert W. Cotting of this town went fishing on Upper Mystic. The ice was thin and rotten, and in crossing near the Everett Mansion, he broke through. He was wearing long rubber boots and an army coat with cape. It is thought that when he went down the cape was drawn up toward the surface, and when he rose, he came up under it, suffocating in the folds. The body was found standing erect in seven feet of water with the ends of the cape floating on the surface.

Last Friday afternoon by the help of Mr. J. M. Chase and his accomplished son Al, and with the advice and verbal encouragement of several other friendly neighbors, we placed a new Globe Printing Press in our new office, opposite the depot. We have rented a room over Dodge's Drug Store, and placed in it a good selection of type and printing material, and expect on Monday next to print our first job in Arlington.

The performance of the beautiful operetta "Genevieve" on Wednesday evening last, under the direction of Mr. S. P. Prentiss, was the occasion of filling the Town Hall to overflowing.

The part of "Genevieve" was taken by Miss Nellie M. Fessenden, and that of "Isadore" by Miss Annie Lawrence, both of whom sung and acted admirably.

A pleasant feature of the entertainment was the fine singing of the "Arlington Quartette," consisting of Messrs. Knowles, Hobbs, Pool and Glazier, with Mr. William E. Wood as accompanist.

Arlington Poet Represented In National Publication

Another literary honor has come to one of Arlington's leading poets, Edith Wyman, 62 Richfield road, it was announced recently. She received word of representation by an original poem in the national anthology of love poems, "Eros," being edited by Lucia Trent, well-known poet and editor who is an authority in this field. The title of this author's poem thus honored is "June Magic." The work of many other poets, some of national distinction, already has been accepted for this volume, which its New York publisher, Henry Harrison, claims will be the largest and most impressive collection of its character. The book will be illustrated by drawings by Herbert Eouts.

Mrs. Wyman has further been honored by being requested to serve as a representative of this compilation in this vicinity and to urge other poets to submit immediately material suitable for it to Lucia Trent, Sierra Madre, California. Seven original poems, published or unpublished, should be sent with self-addressed, stamped return envelope.

"All without a church home and all lovers of God's Word cordially invited. We preach Christ Crucified, Risen and Returning."

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, February 5.

The Golden Text is: "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty" (II Corinthians 3:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee; and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all" (Luke 4:14, 15).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God. The humble Nazarene overthrew the supposition that sin, sickness, and death have power. He proved them powerless" (p. 288).

Walter Howe, Mus. B., A. A. G. O., Organist and Choir Director

On Sunday, February 5th, at the 10:30 service, our large vested choir will sing, under the direction of Prof. Walter Howe. The Pastor will preach a Communion Sermon, on our Church Covenant. The various Societies of Christian Endeavor will sit together in a reserved section. At the close of the service the Ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be administered.

In the church service pins will be given out to those from the Sunday School who have been present fifteen consecutive weeks at Sunday morning worship. During the Sunday School hour, at noon, pins for perfect attendance at the Church School sessions will be awarded.

The Pastor addresses the Men's Class on "The Church and National Defense." He will deal with recent developments in Spain and in the speech of Hitler, as these things affect the work of Christianity.

At 4 p. m., the Junior C. E. boys and girls hold their meeting. Intermediate and Senior C. E. have their service at 6 p. m., and at 7:30 the Adelpian Class convenes.

On Friday evening, February 10, the topic will be, "The Story of the Open Bible." There is nothing more dramatic or more colorful than the narrative of how the Bible has come to be the property of the people.

UNIVERSALIST NEWS

Closing the third year of his pastorate, Rev. Robert M. Rice reported at the annual parish meeting January 25 of the substantial progress in every department of the church life that had been made during the year 1938, a year in which the church members were confronted with a severe test of their loyalty and faith in the future—and passed that test with a high mark. Evidence of the organization's good health was reflected in the reports of the various auxiliaries. Sincere appreciation of Mr. Rice's leadership was shown by whole-hearted applause. And Mrs. Rice, too, was applauded for her varied contributions to the activities of the church.

The report of Treasurer Howard Hawkins showed that the parishioners had given generously of their means to meet the regular expenses of operation and the added burden of the hurricane damage. The Society entered 1939 with all bills paid, and approved a carefully planned budget presented by a committee of which Frederick A. Carlton was chairman. James O. Holt paid tribute to Mr. Carlton for his valuable services during many years as secretary of the trustees of funds from which he retired with the election of Herbert M. Dutcher. Confidence in the administration of the Society's affairs resulted in the re-election of president Raymond H. Stearns and his fellow trustees, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Cummins of Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. Hector Campbell, 2 Lehigh street, were elected members of the society.

The meeting had a large attendance and was preceded by a supper put on by a committee of men headed by David L. Peirce with Albert K. Peirce acting as steward.

Twenty-six young people of junior and high school age gathered at the home of Gordon Farrow, 198 Highland avenue, Sunday evening and heard a talk by Eldon Gray who spent four years in Japan. At the suggestion of Mr. Rice, the group organized a committee to look after future activities and choose officers. Refreshments were served.

Under the auspices of the Samaritan Society a military whist will take place in the parish hall tomorrow (Friday) evening.

The Patterson Fellowship provided flowers last Sunday in memory of the late Rev. Charles F. Patterson, pastor, 1923-27.

Mr. Rice provided anticipated interest in his sermon for next Sunday by announcing that he would attempt to answer a question put to him by one of the parishioners as to why there is such widespread prejudice against the Jews among Christian people who derive their religious philosophy from the teachings of a Jew.

A dozen Arlington parishioners were among the 500 Universalists gathered at the First Universalist church in Lynn last Sunday evening to hear Dr. Robert Cummins give his second talk in a series of mass meetings conducted by the Massachusetts Universalist Convention. Part of his address was a rebuttal in his current debate with the Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S. J., on the fundamental differences of belief between the Catholic Church and the liberal churches insofar as those beliefs affect the democratic ideal of government. Dr. Cummins closed his rebuttal of Dr. Ahern's radio addresses with six leading questions.

Miss Alfreda Mosher of the International Institute of Boston will speak of a recent trip to central Europe at a silver tea given by the Mission Circle in the parish hall next Monday at 2 p. m.

Boy Scout Troop 8 to Hold Open House at Congregational Church

Troop 8, Boy Scouts, as a part of Scout Week activity, will hold open house on Thursday evening, February 9, at the Orthodox Congregational church. The troop will participate in demonstrations of First Aid, knot-tying, and other contests, following which sound motion pictures of the September hurricane will be shown. The troop hopes for a large turn-out of parents and friends.

Major E. Stanley Beck of 64 Chester street has returned from a week's trip to New York and Washington.

N. Y. A. BOYS WORKING ON POLICE TRAFFIC SIGNS

the use of the most modern machinery.

The Arlington NYA boys, who are doing the town a fine service in turning out these signs, are given a free course in drafting, the instructor being a teacher of ability and a graduate of M. I. T.

Even the cement bases for these signs are moulded by the boys themselves.

Working at all times under skilled leadership, these boys have learned a great deal about the use of various kinds of power drills, lathes, steel cutting machines, etc. Most of the youths have become most skillful with the paint brush and it is believed that it will not be long before they will be able to take their places in the field of private employment.

The drafting course, given under the term of "related training," is most interesting to the youths who seem to be making very creditable progress in their studies.

The work of constructing hundreds of highway, police signs and school danger signs as well as crosswalk signs, has been highly praised by the citizens of the community as well as the local officials.

Sheltered Workshop To Exhibit Work Here

The Arlington Nurses' Alumnae have issued invitations to an exhibition and sale of hand-made articles from the Sheltered Workshop at Hambury Hall, Ring Sanatorium, next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

As a further attraction Miss Roberts of the Southern Middlesex Health Association will present two films, "Behind the Shadows" and "Let My People Live" (with sound). Mrs. P. G. Worcester will represent the Sheltered Workshop of the Boston Tuberculosis Association and will show handwork by ex-patients, whose cases have been arrested.

OWNER FOUND DEAD IN LOCAL SHOE SHOP

wrong. The proprietor of the shoe shop at 350 Massachusetts avenue, Arakel Mouradian, was found dead inside. He lived in a room behind the shop all alone and had apparently been seized with a heart attack shortly after he closed up Wednesday night. Date of death was set at January 25 by the medical examiner, who pronounced it due to natural causes.

Arakel Mouradian, who was the husband of the late Sadie Nazarian, was seventy-one years old. He was born in Turkey, son of Mourad Mouradian, and had been in business here for the past ten years. Funeral services were held yesterday and burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery, Boston.

who plan to make the decorations the most striking ever to be seen in the town hall. Barbara Llewellyn, Helen Gale, Mrs. Gordon Northrup, Ruth Fowler, Mrs. Charles Frederick and Gordon Stockbridge are working out a brand new motif this year. The idea is original; in fact, it is positively "Aboriginal," the Advocate is informed.

Mrs. Curtis K. Pinkham has had a large committee working on the program and the prizes, the latter to be awarded in four divisions and spread among fourteen people. The divisions are as follows: Costumes portraying theatrical characters most authentically, most original costumes, most beautiful and most comical. There will be a lady's prize and a gentleman's prize in each of the four divisions, and in the latter three there will also be second prizes for both men and women.

Music will be by Rand Smith's orchestra, which played last year, and dancing will be until two o'clock Saturday morning.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE PICKS W. C. ADAMS FOR SELECTMAN

For town clerk, Earl A. Ryder, "present competent incumbent."

Treasurer, Charles A. Hardy, "eighteen years of efficient service."

Selectman, William C. Adams, "years of executive experience. Co-organizer and present member of several prominent constructive organizations."

Board of public works, James R. Smith, "member nine years and present chairman."

Board of Assessors, Clarence A. Moore, "member 10 years and present chairman."

Moderator, Albert W. Wunderly, for re-election.

Tax collector, J. Wilbert Anderson, "assistant to the present collector."

Park commissioner, Daniel M. Hooley, "present chairman."

School committee, Harold A. Cahalin, Mrs. Katherine Lacey, James W. Kidder, "present members."

Planning board, Charles H. Bowker (3-year term) and Herbert M. Dutcher (1-year term), "present members."

Board of health, Dr. Carl Barstow, "prominent physician."

All the above were accepted and endorsed without opposition, except the candidate for selectman. In this case, George Harris, who is also a candidate for selectman, took occasion to attack the presiding officer, Felix V. Cutler, and his "dictatorial" tactics. His remarks were substantially the same as the prepared statement from Mr. Harris, which appears in another column of this issue. Mr. Harris was supported by three others of those present, but when the question was put to a vote the count showed the sentiment of the meeting in favor of endorsing Mr. Adams.

The others on the qualifications committee were Mrs. Charles A. Alden, Edward Kelly and Charles M. MacMillan.

Sarkis Zartarian Upholds President's Defense Program

Sarkis M. Zartarian, 66 Richfield road, returned some time ago from an extended course of inspection and instruction at a Coast Artillery School. Here he learned at first hand about this country's present equipment and inadequate defenses in the different branches. In addressing the Rotary Club at its regular luncheon meeting Wednesday noon at the Middlesex Sportsman's Association clubhouse, "Zack" was able to plead for the President's national defense program with real conviction.

President Herbert Buttrick expressed the feelings of the members when he stated to Dr. Hosea McAdoo how much the club would miss him when he departs in about two weeks for an extended vacation in the southwest to finally return to Baltimore, Maryland.

Principal John O. Matthews of the Junior High School Center has been elected a new member.

STAR-STUDDED CAST TO DO WILCOX PLAY

agents, Leah Salisbury, Inc., to give the Friends of the Drama the right to produce the play for the first time on any stage. Miss Jean Dalrymple, who has collaborated with many playwrights, including Rachel Caruthers and Frank Craven, has also assisted Mrs. Wilcox with the final draft and will be on hand to lend a hand with the last rehearsals and to see the play the opening night.

Mrs. Winner and Mr. Guinan are not the only luminaries cast in the play. The list also includes Norval Bacon, Herbert Ellison, Georgine Taylor, Ruby Clifford, James F. Carmody, Jr., Ruby Brown, Harry Eaton, Paul White, Jr., Harold Magnuson, Hazel Chapin, Anne Reid Pickering, and Bertha Brooks.

The Friends of the Drama will be in conclave this Sunday afternoon at four o'clock for the usual business meeting and tea. There will, however, be a most unusual entertainment offered in the persons of Ed Center and John Chipman. The two gentlemen are not only pianists extraordinary, but they are also masters of improvisation, especially when they get together. Their two-piano recital Sunday, therefore, will be something to remember.

Book Review

"My Husband, Gabrielowitch," by Clara Clemens, will be the subject of the book review which is being held at the parish hall of St. John's church, Pleasant street, at 2:30 on Wednesday, February 8. Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond, the reviewer, says, "This is a delightful biography, rich in humor and full of the kind of incidents one likes to remember."

WILLIAM KENNETH AWALT

lington and done business here ever since he came to this country from Nova Scotia forty years ago. During his retirement the business has been carried on by his son, W. Reynolds Awalt of this town.

Mr. Awalt had long been active in Masonic circles and funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at the Masonic Temple by the officers of Hiram Lodge, A. F. & A. M. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mr. Awalt was born in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, son of Archibald Awalt and Mary Barkhouse. Besides the son already mentioned he leaves his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds Awalt; another son, Kenneth Awalt of Los Angeles, California; a daughter, Mrs. Roger Burbank of Plymouth; a grandson, two brothers and four sisters.

Obituaries

MRS. WILLIAM H. McNAMARA

Mrs. Lillian A. McNamara, who had lived in this town for the past thirty years, died at her home, 169 Mystic street, on January 29. Beloved wife of William H. McNamara, she was born in Clinton fifty-seven years ago, daughter of Terrence Sweeney and Annie McNamara. Funeral services were held from her late home Tuesday morning, and high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Agnes' church. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mrs. Sarah F. Mason, the wife of Arlington's wire inspector, William E. Mason, died at the Deaconess Hospital in Boston, Tuesday, after a long illness. Funeral services will be held at the Saville & Kimball Chapel, 418 Massachusetts avenue, tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and interment will be at Mt. Auburn cemetery, Cambridge.

Mrs. Mason was born in Natick, July 28, 1879, daughter of James Evans and Mary J. Hamilton. She had lived in Arlington for the past eighteen years.

Mrs. Hannah J. G. Harris

As the result of an injury suffered nearly two years ago, Mrs. Hannah J. G. Harris died on January 30 at the Walnut Street Hospital in her eighty-seventh year.

Mrs. Harris, who was the widow of Maurice O. Harris, was born in Boston March 7, 1852, daughter of Edward Grace and Mary Harrigan. She had lived in Arlington for several years.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Hartwell Chapel, 792 Massachusetts avenue, and were conducted by Rev. Samuel Lindsey of Brookline. Interment was in Mt. Auburn cemetery, Cambridge.

She leaves three sons, Dr. Francis S. Harris of Cambridge, Harry J. Harris, and Edward M. Harris of 19 Lake street.

MICHAEL HEFFERNAN

Funeral services for Michael Heffernan, who was, until he retired because of ill health in 1934, connected for ten years with Wrenn Brothers & Co. in Boston, were held Tuesday morning from his late home, 13 Richfield road. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Agnes' church, and burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery, the pallbearers being Richard, David, Joseph and Francis Connors, John Murphy and John Joyce.

Mr. Heffernan, who died at his home on January 30, was born seventy years ago in County Cork, Ireland, son of Thomas Heffernan and Margaret Cunningham. He was the husband of Mrs. Margaret (Hoar) Heffernan, and had lived in Arlington for the past eighteen years.

MRS. AUGUSTUS MAHER

Seized in a heart attack, Mrs. Sadie E. Maher, wife of Augustus Maher of 8 Margaret street, died suddenly at her home on January 28. Mrs. Maher, who had lived in Arlington for the past twelve years, was born in Westerly, Rhode Island, forty-nine years ago, daughter of John V. Colbin and Mary King. Funeral services were held from her late home Tuesday morning, and high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Jerome's church. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

PHINEAS G. HUBBARD

Phineas G. Hubbard, who had made his home at 24 Daniels street for the past several years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Richard S. Linley on January 27 in his seventy-eighth year. Funeral services were held at the Hartwell Chapel, 792 Massachusetts avenue, Sunday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. Richard T. Broeg, Minister of the First Methodist-Episcopal church. Burial was in Proctorsville, Vermont, where Mr. Hubbard was born November 2, 1862, son of George Hubbard and Anna Willis. Mr. Hubbard was employed by the Boston & Maine railroad for more than thirty years.

Completing Plans For Community Chest Ball

The members of the Twenty-One Club have been working for the past week completing final details for the dance to be held Tuesday evening, February 21, in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall for the benefit of the Arlington Community Chest.

A very interesting program has been arranged under the direction of the Charron Dancing Studio of 661 Massachusetts avenue. The program is in charge of Miss Irene Marie Charron, and will consist of song and dance numbers.

Those participating will be: Patricia Powers, Elsa Del Vecchio, Mildred, Marie and Jean O'Neil, Marion Wyman, Margaret Slattery, Patricia Zarella, Dorothy Augustine, Constance Carpenter, Margaret O'Connor, Elaine Collieran, Jeanne O'Neil, Lillian Vogel, Eleanor Donlon, Millicent Kees, Helen Washburn, Norma Josephson, Barbara Taylor, Patricia Murray, Ave Anne Meyer, Rita Lang.

Musical numbers are arranged through the courtesy of Augustus Mazzocco. Those participating in these numbers are Carline Mazzocco, Charlotte Knowlton, Creeda Nallet, Melvina Mazzocco. The whole program will be accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ralph O'Neil.

The entertainment will be from 8 to 9. Music for the dancing from 9 to 1 will be furnished by Bob Adams and his orchestra.

Proceeds will be used to assist in making up the deficit of the 1939 Appeal of the Arlington Community Chest.

Herbert J. Rogers, secretary of the club, is chairman of the ball.

—Charles E. Murray of this town passed away in Atlanta, Georgia, on January 22. Funeral services were held last Sunday afternoon at the chapel of Joseph H. Rockett, 127 Massachusetts avenue.
